Dear Joshwa:

We all enjoyed your visit very much and I am especially grateful to you for taking the trouble to come down. The expense voucher is being processed and you should hear from the local business office in a couple of weeks.

I talked to Mel about Hertzenberg. Mel regards him as a bright but personally difficult individual. He knows a lot about him from his Parisian associates and he told me that there was no question that personality problems were significant and were not sufficiently compensated by his scientific abilities.

As ever,

Arthur Kornberg.
